

Health Minister visits Park West Clinic

Established in 2006, Park West Clinic is an independent, purpose-built dedicated facility. It comprises state-of-the-art, high-tech hospital design, built and equipped to the highest clinical and technical specifications including health text memorandum and CEN standards. It is unique and innovative in that it is the first day surgery centre of its kind in Ireland, committed to providing a caring environment and the best in medical expertise striving to deliver high quality cost effective healthcare. It continues to provide much sought after surgical operating room time and world class medical facilities for medical specialists over a variety of specialities.

“Park West Clinic endeavors to provide both patient and its user with a distinct advantage in treatment and facilities... our absolute priority is to use best practice and the most advanced medical equipment to provide high quality patient care,” says Dr Ahmed Salman, medical director of Park West Clinic.

Health Minister Mary Harney and Dr Salman engaged in much discussion, reviewing Park West Clinic’s new healthcare model including the cost effectiveness of day surgery and the benefits of new surgical and technological innovations.
